

Katie M. Reid

Speaker | Author | Encourager

Endorsements:

If you're looking for a speaker who combines thought-provoking content, passionate words, delightful humor, and expressive presentation, you've found her. Katie shares from her heart straight to yours. You will walk away changed and dared to pursue Christ intensely!

-Laurie Wickes, Ministry Director at Trinity Fellowship

Katie is a voice for every woman. She speaks straight into the hearts of women who are trying to live out their Christ identity in a world that says "you're not enough." Katie takes us by the hand and lets us know how much we're loved, just as we are.

-Jennifer Dukes Lee, Author of Love Idol

About Katie:

Katie encourages others to find grace in the unraveling of life. As a national speaker and trained Bible Study facilitator, Katie points others to Jesus through transparent confessions, memorable object lessons, and Biblical truth. Her book, Made Like Martha: Good News for the Woman Who Gets Things Done releases July 2018 with Waterbrook. Katie blogs regularly at katiemreid.com and has published articles through Focus on the Family, HuffPost, MOPS, and Crosswalk. Katie delights in her hubby, five children, and their life in ministry. Cut-to-the-chase conversation, over hot or iced tea, is one of Katie's favorite things.
