

“Already Enough” Statements

- My value is not based on how well I perform. Christ has performed flawlessly and determined my value through His creation of me and His sacrifice for me (Genesis 1:27; Psalm 18:30; Matthew 10:31; John 3:16).
- I don't have to prove my worth by overcommitting. Christ already proved my worth by dying for my sins (Romans 5:8).
- Just because I am good at something does not mean I am obligated to say yes. Christ has specific assignments for me just as God had specific assignments for Christ (Ephesians 2:10).
- Even when I act unrighteously, God's righteousness remains on and within me because of my faith in Christ's permanent work of salvation (Romans 1:17; 2 Corinthians 5:21; 1 John 2:1).
- When my offering seems meager and my resources are lacking, God can miraculously multiply and supply more than enough for the need at hand (Luke 9:16–17; Philippians 4:19).
- God's love for me does not fluctuate based on whether I do too much or not enough. Through Christ's doing enough on the cross and my belief in Him, I am loved and in right standing with God (Romans 8:33, 38–39).

Excerpted from Made Like Martha by Katie M. Reid (katiemreid.com)

